

Survey of Incoming Freshmen Majors in 2003

Engineering	9.3%
Biological Sciences	70.3%
Physical Sciences	27 %
Computer Science	1.7%
Business	15.9%
Nursing	3.7%

Slightly less than 60% plan to obtain a master's degree 14% interested in becoming doctors or lawyers.

Areas with expected shortages:

PhD's – college professors
Air Traffic Controllers
Government lawyers
Physicians

Fastest Growing Jobs in next 10-20 years according to Barron's Magazine:

Registered nurses,
Physician assistants
Mental-health workers
Health-services entrepreneurs
Biologists
Neurologists
Web designers
Marketing professionals
Advertising writers
Computer programmers
Systems analysts
Financial planners – personal bankers
Assistant morticians
Television personalities
Actors and directors (movie, television)
Athletes
Coaches
Umpires
Referees
Gaming industry croupiers

Careers expected to decline:

Butchers
Barbers
Manufacturing workers
Agricultural workers
Clerks

Ten most popular new training programs according to the Career Colleges Assoc.

Massage therapy
Medical assisting/medical secretary
Criminal justice/law enforcement
Computer Technology
Computer network management
Medical office computer assistance
MEDICAL INSURANCE SPECIALISTS
Medical insurance coding specialists
E-commerce
Pharmacy assistant